- RECENT CRIME TRENDS —

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office is seeing a positive trend in public safety across the board in the first half of 2025 compared to the same time last year (January—June). - Violent Crime is down 18%, with 261 incidents compared to 318 last year
- Crimes Against Property dropped slightly, from 911 to 853, about a 6% decrease
- Crimes Against Person had a 14% decrease
- Crimes Against Society and quality of life complaints have decreased 35%
- ♦ Firearm Offenses dropped almost 50% from 64 to 35.

— WCSO INITIATIVES —

The WCSO is actively engaged in a variety of initiatives to strengthen public safety and build trust. We hosted our first Coffee Hour with the Sheriff and participate in community meetings and townhalls to maintain open lines of communication with residents.

WCSO also operates several specialized programs, including the Co-Response Unit, Law Enforcement Assisted Diversion and Deflection (LEADD), our reentry team that assists individuals in the transition from incarceration back to the community, and is a partner with community violence intervention efforts focused on reducing gun violence. In addition to these initiatives, WCSO also hosts local events such as Shop with a Cop, using the opportunities to build positive relationships with youth and families throughout the county.

- SAFETY IS BUILT AS A COMMUNITY, NOT JUST ENFORCED ——

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office jurisdictions show very positive trends for youth (under 18 years) regarding victimization during the first six months of 2025 compared to the same six months for 2024.

Washtenaw County has had numerous initiatives and programming to support trauma informed care, especially for youth and young adults. These partnerships have included the Washtenaw Sheriff's Office, Community Mental Health, Intermediate School District, Health Department, among many others. These initiatives include, Handle With Care, WeLIVE Violence Interruption, WISD Mental Health Action Team, Monthly Mental Health Workshops for Parents, clinical social workers providing direct care to students in all nine districts, as well as indirect support to school staff, and the Success by 6 Great Start Collaborative.

- A thriving community is safe when people are housed, heard, healed, and connected, especially youth. Quality physical and mental healthcare, employment and childcare are necessary for Safe Communities.
- Preventing, recognizing and urgently treating trauma and harm is essential for reducing revictimization and violent behaviors.
- Connection is the best protection. Individual, family, school and neighborhood cohesion and connectedness are necessary to effectively prevent, recognize and treat trauma.

The Michigan Department of Education administers a survey to middle and high schoolers throughout the state, called the Michigan Profile for Healthy Youth (MIPHY). Below are selected survey items possibly indicating positive results for the community trauma informed work identified above. Students with D/F grades are highlighted, as this is the group that has consistently shown much higher risks and rates of trauma in Washtenaw, compared to their counterparts with higher grade point averages.
